"I find that God goes slowly in his educational process of man. 'Forty years in the wilderness' points to his basic educational philosophy. Forty years of natural migration through the wilderness, three generations of the united monarchy (Saul, David, Solomon), nineteen kings of Israel (up to 722 BC) and twenty kings of Judah (up to 587 BC), the hosts of the prophets and priests, the experience of exile and restoration - isn't this rather a slow and costly way for God to let his people know the covenant relationship between God and man? God walks slowly because he is love. If he is not love he would have gone much faster."
